CORRESPONDENT CRITICIZES US POSITION IN VIET NAM

Suddenly, it is a woman who is complaining about the war in Viet Nam — and insisting that the United Nations will never be able to solve it.

Pauline Frederick, NBC News' United Nations correspondent, spoke at the University of the Pacific in Stockton about "the most barbarous war in history."

The distinguished reporter, who is traveling around the United States with five other NBC correspondents, claimed that the U. S. is breaking all of her committments with the UN charter. Originally the members of the UN were to settle their international disputes without force through peaceful means of negotiation, inquiry, and mediation.

"Secretary-General U Thant cares most about ending this war and has sent various members to talk about a settlement, only to be rebuffed by American officials," she said.

"I don't believe," she said, "that esculation will bring peace. Negotiation is the only answer. When we have a clash of the big three powers we have a World War III."

"Many other countries are concerned with the fact that we are doing what we don't want other nations to do. We insisted that the Suez crisis come to a halt, that Russia not fight Hungary and that Pakistan and India end the conflict over Kashmir, yet we continue to fight the war in Viet Nam."

Miss Frederick considers U Thant's 3-point plan for peace as "helpless." The plan calls for an end to the bombing in North Viet Nam, deesculation of the military in the South and councilling between all parties involved. "Because Red China, however, is not a member of the UN it could not respect any decision coming from it."

"Some people think it is up to China to prove she should be a member because only peace-lov-

NSA Academic Director Speaks at 1 PM Today

Steven Sunderland, academic freedom director of the National Student Association, will speak on student rights today at 1 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

Sunderland received his bachelor's degree from Hunter College and his masters from Indiana University. He is currently a research associate at Georgetown University.

The National Student Association is a confederation of the student associations of various colleges and universities across the nation. The group's annual meeting held recently was attended by 425 delegates representing 250 colleges student governments according to Time magazine.

Time quoted one convention delegate as saying the conclave was "a meeting between the left left-wingers and the right left-wingers."

In resolutions passed at the conference the NSA demanded an end to the bombing of North and South Viet Nam, and the setting up of coalition government in the south to include the Viet Cong. The congress proposed abolishing the peacetime draft and asserted that "no government should be allowed the power to

Marriage Values Of 21st Century To Continue Tonight On KVIE-TV

Dr. Arthur Burton, professor of psychology, is moderating a series of three one-hour programs on KVIE-TV, "The Crisis of Marriage."

The first program, "The Problem," was shown last week and will continue with "The Personal Corrective" tonight at 9 p.m. and Sunday, October 16, at 6 p.m. The third program, "The Social Corrective," may be seen at the same time the following week.

As the divorce rate approaches the marriage rage, marriage will assume a new set of values. What will they be in the Twenty-First Century? Burton leads the other panel members, who are concerned with the same problem, in a systematic evaluation of the problem. They are Marven Klein, an obstetrician, attorney Ken Donnelson and marriage counselor J. Ronald Poesy.

Burton says, "When two people get married, it is really four that are getting married, two conscious selves and two unconscious selves. Marriage is a kind of neurosis resolving two individuals as a collective totality, if the marriage is successful." More people are seeking this ideal but fewer are tolerant enough to survive the processes involved.

There are, Burton says, several myths which are prevalent that hinder the individual's chance for a successful marriage:

1. Marriages are made in heaven.
2. The female is to be sexually proficient in marriage after having repressed her sexuality until then.
3. Men are totally masculine and women totally feminine.
4. Prince Charming will rescue his partner from this mundane world to some exciting one.
5. The mother or father image conflict will be overshadowed by marriage.
6. Economics will take care of themselves.

"These myths," Burton says, "are prevalent among those with divorce problems.

"The solutions to these problems lie in a more realistic appraisal of the individual and his relation to his marriage partner."

Dr. Burton, who received his M.A. at UCLA and his PhD. at UC Berkeley, maintains a private practice as well as being a professor. He has six books published, and is currently working on "The Ego Psychologist."

Picture Sign-ups Begin This Week

Formal pictures will be taken next week, October 17-21 and on the following week, October 24-28. Sitting fees will be $1 for two poses for Greeks; $2.50 for four poses for seniors; and $3 for six poses for Greek seniors. Sign-ups and photography will be handled by Weinstock-Lubin.

Girls are required to wear collarless, white blouses with sleeves. Greeks may also wear a lavalier. Boys are to wear a dark sports jacket or suit, a white shirt, and a plain dark tie.

ing members belong to the UN," she said. "But we wouldn't need churches if everyone were saints and not all nations in the UN are peace-loving."

Although U Thant has claimed he will resign as Secretary-General, it is Miss Frederick's hopes "that U Thant's successor will be U Thant. The UN has not made much of an effort to select a new successor. A new term for U Thant would be in accord with all the members of the UN Council. U Thant has said that he will give another term 'a very serious consideration.' "

Meanwhile, the NBC correspondent believes that the major problem bothering the world today is that "it seems to us that neither war nor peace is important, but only that a nation save face."

BOD To Meet

A regular meeting of the ASSSC Board of Directors will be held Wednesday, October 12, at 3:00 p.m. in the Sierra Room on the second floor of the Administration Building.

Under discussion will be the procedure for recognition of clubs, a statute which was vetoed by ASSSC President Kit Oase last week and will be revised and reviewed again this meeting. Several statutes relating to ASSSC funds will be considered, including one regarding policy on reserve funds and one on the procedure for establishing admission charges at student organization fund raising events. Also on the agenda is a statute allowing the coordinator of Orientation to appoint assistants who will handle various orientation programs. Additional legislation introduced at the Statutes Committee meeting on Monday will be reviewed and discussed as well.

The meeting is open to the general public and all interested SSC students are urged to attend.

compel its citizens to kill."

The convention opposed as "undemocratic" the draft's 2-s classification, which defers students. Another resolution urged the repeal of laws banning the sale of marijuana and LSD.

NSA, according to Time, used to be a confederation of student governments that were understood to be "little more than exercises in democracy, and had almost no power in molding university policies." Part of NSA's "leftward lurch," according to Time, is the result of the 1960 breakaway of the conservative Young Americans for Freedom, and partly, it is "an attempt to overcome widespread campus apathy toward student governments, whose limited power made them seem impotent compared with the campus New Left, particularly after the 1964 student revolt at Berkeley."

Homecoming...

Phi Alpha has entered Barbara Graber, a sociology major from Pebble Beach. A former student at Monterey Peninsula College, Barbara is chaplain of Beta Phi Beta. She lists her hobbies as skiing, swimming, sewing and playing guitar. A one-time songleader, Barbara has appeared in Life magazine.

A junior at SSC, Troas tutored underprivileged children in the Study Center program. Her interests include Latin music, dancing, water skiing and horse-back riding.

Block "S" has chosen Nancy Johnson as its entrant in the queen contest. She is presently a songleader. A sophomore, Nancy is a physical education major who hopes to be a dancing teacher. Her interests are dancing, gymnastics, swimming and sewing.

Susan Juett, a Home Economics major, is Draper Hall's queen candidate. A junior with a minor in chemistry, Susan is Jenkins Hall's Judicial Body Chairman. She is a member of Home Economics Club with interests in swimming, golf, sewing, knitting, dancing, skiing and travel.

Phi Kappa Tau's contestant choice is Francie Reel. Francie is a 19 year old sociology major. A junior, she enjoys swimming and skiing.

Members of the Alumni Board will pick the Homecoming Queen from the four finalists at the Queen's Breakfast, October 16. The Queen will be crowned during the Bonfire Rally on October 21.

VISTA Recruiting For Poverty War

"Your pay will be low; the conditions of your labor often will be difficult. But you will have the satisfaction of leading a great national effort and you will have the ultimate reward which comes to those who serve their fellow man," stated President Lyndon B. Johnson as he greeted the first VISTA Volunteers on December 12, 1964.

The Volunteer corps of the War on Poverty is now recruiting on the Sacramento State Campus. VISTA representatives, directed by John Herbert, will be here today and tomorrow outlining the role students can play in the War on Poverty.

Representatives are available to talk to classes and arrangements can be made by contacting Jackie Gale in the Placement Center, Extension 6231.

Currently, ten SSC graduates are serving with VISTA. Volunteers receive their living expenses plus $50 a month during their year of service in urban slums, rural areas, on Indian reservations, or with the Job Corps.

Volunteers may express a preference as to where they wish to serve.

REVIEW OFFERS CASH PRIZES

Fiction, non-fiction, and poetry works are now being accepted for the first annual REVIEW Writing Contest, to be published in the fall semester.

This should be of interest to writers and poets of SSC as there are prizes of $25 to be given for the best work in each division. In addition, the winning compositions will be set aside in a separate section of the magazine.

SAM Offers Game Of Probability

There are few areas, if any, in which probability does not play some role. One of the most interesting and at times profitable areas is its role as a gaming model.

The Society for Advancement of Management (SAM) is sponsoring a program in which the fallacies and attributes of probability as a gaming model will be critically analyzed. To facilitate the analysis special reference will be made to Thorpe's system of playing black jack.

Chester Healy, Assistant professor of statistics, and Mahmat Lacin, professor of government will briefly and very simply go into the basics of probability and how it applies to the realm of gambling.

All persons interested are invited to attend in Room Art 145 on Thursday, October 13 at one p.m.

"Legalized Abortion" will be the topic of a presentation by Victor Lash, M.D., tomorrow evening at the Newman Center at 7:30 p.m. All interested students are invited to attend.

SSC SWAMPS CAL STATE 38-6

By TIM (SCOOP) AHERN
HORNET SPORTS STAFF

Sacramento State's footballers opened the Far Western Conference season on a winning note last Saturday as they bombed the Cal State Pioneers, 38-6 in Hayward.

The victory gives the Green and Gold a 1-0 league mark and evens its overall record at 2-2. Hayward, which last week surprised Humboldt State, 33-14, is now 1-1 in FWC action and 1-2 on the year.

Once again it was the Hornet defense, coached by former Washington State mentor Chuck Chatfield, which led the way to victory. SSC turned in another superb job, holding the explosive Pioneers to just four first downs and five yards total offense. Cal State ended up with -98 yards on the ground and 103 passing.

The Hornets used the same pass rush that has worked so well all year and three Cal State quarterbacks were dumped for a total of 107 yards in losses.

But the offense wasn't exactly standing still, either. SSC rolled up its top point and yardage totals of the still-young season. Led by Lyle James, the visitors amassed 356 yards-246 on the ground and 110 passing. James, the former Monterey Junior College signal-caller, hit on four of seven throws for 96 yards, indluding a 74-yard touchdown pass to Davie Cummings and ran for 23 more. The SSC rushing total was divided between nine players as coach Ray Clemons, leading 18-0 at the half, got a chance to look at some of the other players on the squad besides the regulars.

The visitors never trailed. After a scoreless first period, they got on the scoreboard when Mike Clemons kicked a 28-yard field goal after a drive stalled deep in Cal State territory.

Seconds later, the Hornets had their first touchdown of the afternoon. The Pioneers took the kickoff on their 30, but four plays later it was fourth-and-19 at the 21, so Fred Cariss punted, or at least he tried to. John Carney, who blocked a kick last week, crashed in to block another one. Don Costello of the Hornets picked up the loose ball on the six and took it into the end zone for the score. Clemons' conversion kick made it 10-0.

Just before the intermission, Al Biancani returned a punt 20 yards to the Pioneer 35. The Hornets covered the remaining distance in six plays with Al Nicholas going over from the two. On the PAT try, Donn Pintar, holding the ball for Clemons, fumbled the snap but Mike grabbed it and ran over for two points and an 18-0 lead at the half.

SSC took the second half kickoff and moved to the 26 in three plays. From there, James hit Cummings with a toss and Davie galloped the rest of the way to complete the 76-yarder.

Then came Cal State's only points of the game. Bob Russell, an :09.7 sprinter, burned the red dogging Hornets as he took a screen pass from Mike Gunning and ran it in to complete a 41 yard play.

Later in the same period, the Green and Gold got another break as Cariss got off a bad punt that traveled five yards and put Sacramento in business on the home 30. Nicholas ran around right end for 16, Clemons went up the middle for three and then J.L. Brown circled left end for 11 yards and six points.

The final marker came in the last period, as Jim Wheeler hit Bill Yurlong with a 12-yard pass to end a drive which had originated on the Pioneer 45.

ANOTHER PIONEER BITES THE DUST as Barry Gilberg and Bob Oliver, Hornet defensive ball players, throw Cal State for another loss. Defense proved to be key to SSC's 38-6 win as Hayward was able to manage only 5 yards total offense.

Block 'S' Meeting

Block "S", the men's letterman society, will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 pm in the Sierra Room. Homecoming and future plans will be discussed and refreshments will be served. All members are urged to attend.

Wasps Bulldog Wildkittens

Sacramento State's Wasps rolled up their second win in as many weeks last Friday when the yearling gridders downed the Chico State frosh 40-6 on the losers' field.

Larry Rodericks, the Gustine High School passing specialist, was again the big gun for the Wasps, completing two touchdown passes and scored three for two more himself. He has now completed six TD passes and scored three for the season.

Dan Smith, another fine quarterback for the Wasps, led the team to the first score and passed and ran well, but pulled a hamstring muscle in the second half and had to leave the game.

Coach Bill Kutzer described the victory as "a fine team effort." The ground game ran smoothly and, as expected, helped SSC's passing attack.

Kutzer had praise for Larry Hubbard, Al Edge, Nick Surjan, and Dennis Shannon on offense, and Bob Rourbough and Bill Hockerson on defense. Both Hockerson and Rourbough made pass interceptions during the game.

Next Saturday at noon the Wasps will go against their toughest opponent of the year at San Quentin. "They always have a lot of veterans," comments the Wasp mentor.

Moss To Speak Tomorrow At Noon

Congressman John E. Moss (D-Sacramento) will speak in the quad tomorrow at 12 noon.

According to officers of the Young Democrats, the theme of Moss's appearance will be "Ask Your Congressman." All students and faculty are invited to attend and pose queries to the legislator.

Moss is serving his 14th year in the U.S. House of Representatives and his 18th year in elective office. He was first elected to the Congress in 1952 after serving four years in the California State Assembly where he was Assistant Democratic Leader.

Moss is a member of the House Committees on Interstate and Foreign Commerce (since 1957) and Government Operations since 1955.

The Congressman's investigation of the broadcast rating service earned him the American Broadcasting Company Radio Network award for "exceptional service in the interest of radio broadcasting during 1963." For his activities during 1963 in furthering access to government information for a free press, Moss received the John Peter Zenger Award from the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors, an Award of Merit from the National Editorial Association was awarded the Sigma Delta Chi Professional Journalistic Award in 1960 for his "magnificent fight, 1955 through 1960, in behalf of the American people's right to know about government."

Moss attended Sacramento public schools and Sacramento City College. During World War II he served in the U.S. Navy and upon returning to private life after the war he established a retail business in Sacramento. He also is a licensed real estate broker and formerly was associated with his brother, Henry, in that business.

Driver Ed. Class Open

Would you like to learn how to drive, so that you too could be a part of the great parking ritual? Do you lack the funds to take professional lessons?

Your problems are solved. Non-driving volunteers are needed for Health and Safety Education 394, according to Dr. Raymond Meister, associate professor of health and safety education.

There are openings in this driver education class for up to six students. The class, which is designed to teach teachers how to instruct non-drivers, is taught by credential candidates.

Under the plan of the course non-driving students will take 10 hours of instruction during the semester. A commercial training school would charge up to eight dollars an hour for lessons, according to Meister.

Volunteers should see Meister in his office during his posted office hours. Sign-ups are due by Friday, October 14th or earlier. The class will begin the week of the 17th or 24th of October.
